

Good morning Kites and Buzzards.

I hope you are getting back into your routine of studying at home.

Fact of the day: The internet was invented in 1991. This means the internet is only a few years younger than Miss Betsy and Mr Watt!

Here are your home learning activities to be completed today.

Activities to be completed daily:

- Read a book. Write a summary of the story and write a description of your favourite character. You can listen to audio books here: <https://stories.audible.com/discovery>
- 30 minutes on IXL English. <https://uk.ixl.com>
- 30 minutes on IXL Maths. <https://uk.ixl.com>
- 15 minutes on TT Rockstars. <https://trockstars.com/> Practice your times tables and challenge your classmates to battles.

It is also important to remember that aside from your daily activities there are other activities you should be doing every day:

- Daily exercise – e.g. Joe Wicks PE @ 9am <https://www.thebodycoach.com/blog/pe-with-joe-1254.html> Did you know that exercise releases special chemicals in your body which make you feel happier?
- Get some fresh air e.g. playing in the garden.
- Share a story with someone in your family.
- Spend time with your family e.g. play a game, make a shop using everyday items, research a topic of interest.
- Help your grown-ups cook, clean and tidy up.

Internet Safety Day

What is Internet Safety Day all about?

Internet Safety Day has been happening since 2005 in over 100 countries worldwide.

The theme this year is 'Be the Change: Unite for a Better Internet'. Generally, if people stick together, report bad use of the Internet and look after each other, the Internet can be a safe place. The day is concerned with making people aware of online safety issues.

The UK Safer Internet Centre

The UK Safer Internet Centre has one mission: to promote the safe and responsible use of technology for young people. The aim is to make children and young people aware of how to use the Internet safely by making good choices and being responsible online.

How can children be kept safe?

What does 'staying safe' on the Internet mean? The Internet is like a huge door to the outside world and this means there are a lot of strangers out there.

There are some rules which everyone should follow so they make responsible choices and stay safe online.

Some uses of the Internet:

- gaming
- shopping
- learning new information
- reading about celebrities

Did you know?

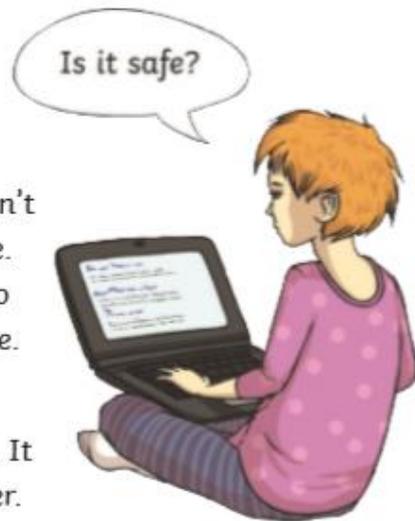

It is illegal for anyone under the age of 13 years old to have a Facebook account.

Rules for using the Internet

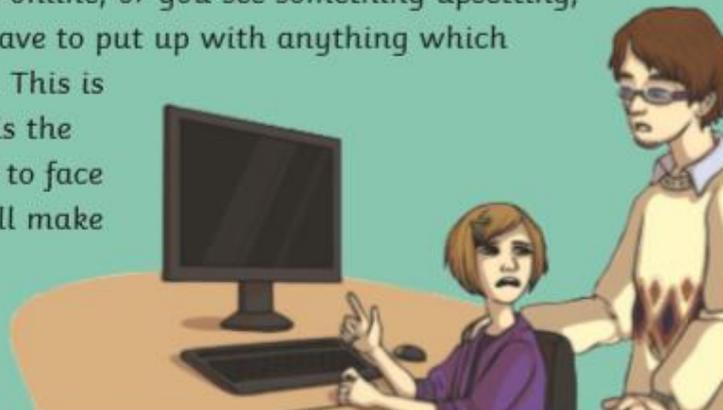

Never share your personal information online. If you were next to a stranger on the bus, you wouldn't suddenly turn to them and tell them where you live or your phone number. So don't pass this sort of information onto someone online. No matter how long you have been 'chatting' to someone, they might not be who they say they are. This means they are still a stranger.

Don't open an attachment sent to you in an email. It could be a virus, which will damage your computer.

Never meet anyone without an adult coming with you. Even if you have been in contact with someone online for some time, meeting them in person on your own is very dangerous. Not everyone can be trusted.

If someone is nasty to you online, or you see something upsetting, tell an adult. You do not have to put up with anything which makes you sad or worried. This is called cyberbullying, and is the same as being bullied face to face – it's just online. It can still make you feel frightened and miserable. Let an adult know straight away!

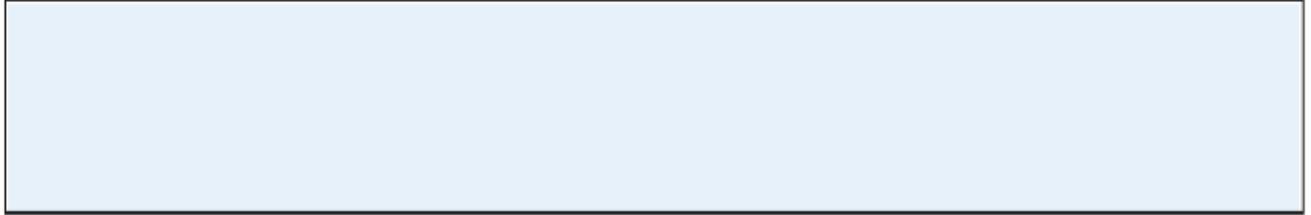

We can all help make the Internet a safer place. It is a wonderful tool if used properly. However, if it is misused, it can be dangerous. Make the right choices and stay safe online.
